CALL FOR PRESENTERS

The Northern Territories Water and Waste Association (NTWWA) invites presenters for the 2019 Conference, Tradeshow and Operators Workshop. This year's theme is:

“Water and Waste, Everything In Between”

The effective management of water and waste North of 60 is essential. The North has some of the most pristine water in the world and we are all working to keep it that way. The NTWWA Board of Directors invites you to share with the participants of the conference what your organization is doing in the areas of water and waste management and research.

The target audience is individuals working with water and waste in the north, including operators, administrators, regulators, equipment manufacturers and consultants working with communities, mines, and energy (oil, gas and hydro electricity).

Presentations are 30 minutes long, including time for questions and answers. Conference topics include planning, design, construction, operation and management of water works, wastewater treatment and disposal works, and solid waste management works. Workshop topics should focus on the practical science, engineering, and operation and maintenance of all facilities, large or small, simple or complicated.

Please contact Megan Lusty, NTWWA President (867.975.5478, mlusty@gov.nu.ca) if you would like to do a presentation (submit the attached form) or would like more information. The deadline for submissions is August 16, 2019. The NTWWA is a not-for-profit organization and for this reason all presenters will be required to register and pay to attend the conference. However, NTWWA reduces the conference fee for presenters by $50. We appreciate your continued support of NTWWA.

We look forward to seeing you in Iqaluit!
